

Outline for Case Presentations

You are welcome to present a case at least once in the supervision group. You can present 10-15 minutes of a video or audio case. If you present an audio recording, it is preferable that it be accompanied by a transcript of the session. If you present a video recording and the audio is not adequate for the group to understand, a transcript (or subtitles) must be made available for each participant. Any presentation will be no more than one hour long, including any role-playing we may do with your case. It can be shorter as well.

Before playing your video, briefly focus on:

1. Where the couple is in the EFT process. Number of sessions to date. The Stage the couple is in. How the couple defines their cycle. What change events have occurred?
2. What are your questions for this session? For example, where do you feel stuck, or what interventions do you find difficult? What feedback are you seeking from your colleagues?

In addition, briefly comment on any of the following you feel the group needs to know:

1. Ages, work, marital status, children, previous marriages
2. Their presenting problem
3. Significant elements of their relationship history-pivotal moments or relationship (attachment) injuries
4. Any other significant life events in -family of origin, sense of secure attachment, previous trauma and so on.
